It is an honor to serve on the AWC Board of Directors and a privilege to serve as your current Board Secretary and incoming Vice-President.

For 90-years AWC has represented cities in Washington, bringing people together from both Eastern and Western Washington (and all points in between) to help cities be their best to their employees, taxpayers and elected officials.

I am proud of my AWC service during the past 13-years through several boards and committees including the Employee Benefit Trust, Board of Directors, Legislative Committee and more. AWC has provided me knowledge, the opportunity to serve, the best opportunities to get to know city councilmembers from across WA and gratefulness for all what this organization has to offer.

Participation in AWC has shown me its importance to the health and wellness of our cities through the Employee Benefit Trust, Risk Management Services Agency, Worker's Comp Retro, Drug & Alcohol Consortium and Legislative program cannot be understated.

The year 2023 brings me great excitement to further serve AWC and all 281 cities in Washington State. I look forward to serving you as your AWC Vice-President and working each day to represent you on the Board.

Amy has been Mayor of Duvall since 2018 after serving two-terms as a councilmember. She currently serves as AWC Board Secretary and on the Boards of Directors of Sound Cities Association and Leadership Eastside. She works as a government relations administrator for a large county and is the proud mom of 10-year old twins.
